

Walk to Wall Street for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion

www.WalkToWallStreet.org

The Walk to Wall Street is a 240+ mile journey from Capitol Hill to Wall Street, led by HACR to champion diversity, equity, and inclusion in Corporate America. Passing through cities like Baltimore, Philadelphia, Trenton, Newark, Wilmington, and Manhattan, this historic event unites communities and leaders to advocate for meaningful change. As we walk, we amplify the message of inclusion, building momentum for a more equitable and inclusive society.

The Walk to Wall Street covers 240+ miles over 28 days, taking us from Capitol Hill to Wall Street. This journey symbolizes our commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, as we walk each mile to drive meaningful change in Corporate America. Join us on this historic path to a more inclusive future.

Walking looks different for everyone, and the Walk to Wall Street is designed to be accessible, ensuring that everyone can participate in this important journey for inclusion.

WHY WE'RE WALKING

We're walking to amplify the critical need for diversity, equity, and inclusion in Corporate America. Each step of our journey symbolizes our commitment to creating a more inclusive society where everyone has a seat at the table. This walk is about raising awareness, driving change, and ensuring that the voices of underrepresented communities are heard and valued.

AMPLIFYING VOICES: DIVERSE PARTNERS, ONE MISSION

The Walk to Wall Street brings together diverse partners representing a wide range of underrepresented groups, including Latinos, African Americans, Asian Americans, the LGBTQ+ community, people with disabilities, and more. These partnerships are crucial in amplifying the voices and experiences of marginalized communities, ensuring our collective call for diversity, equity, and inclusion in Corporate America and beyond is heard loud and clear. Together, we are stronger and more impactful in our mission to create a more inclusive future for all.
